Scientific seminar of the Faculty of Informatics and Statistics – „Day of FIS PhD students“

Dear Madam, dear Sir,

under the auspices of the Dean of the Faculty of Informatics and Statistics, we invite you to participate in the scientific seminar "Day of FIS PhD students". The twenty-eight scientific seminar will take place on the 2nd February 2023. The program of the seminar will be specified in January 2023. The template and instructions for writing abstracts for presentations at the seminar can be found at: <https://fis.vse.cz/doktorske-studium/den-doktorandu/>.

The collection of abstracts will be published as an eBook and will be available on the website www.fis.vse.cz - after ending of seminar.

Contributions from doctoral students who present their contributions at a previous seminar are also welcome, especially if they have made more significantly progress in their work.

If you decide to speak at this seminar, I ask you to submit an application for a presentation stating the topic of your presentation in English or Czech language, at the Department of Science and Doctoral Studies, Faculty of Informatics and Statistics, University of Economics, nám. W. Churchill 4, Prague 3, to Mrs. Krajičková (door no. 412NB) no later than to the 9th January 2023.

Yours faithfully

prof. Ing. Petr Doucek, CSc.
Vice-Dean for Creative and Foreign Affairs
